Story Details

Trailer depicts Lucia as a prison inmate within Leonida's Department of Corrections. She eventually leaves prison, and according to the game's official artwork, she has an ankle monitor. It is possible for her to be on parole temporarily. She meets up with Jason at some unknown time frame, and they rob "Uncle Jack's Liquor", which appears to be a convenience store.

Jason and Lucia robbing Uncle Jacks Liquor

A man covered in tattoos is presented on MegaMundo News television. It is said that due to his tattoos an arrest was able to be made on an unknown individual. The tattoo on his forehead reads "IMPENTINENT", an improper spelling of "IMPENITENT"

Ray Traced Global Illumination and Reflections (mixed with Screen Space Reflections)

Parallax interiors

Improved Vegetation:

The smoke now seems to be volumetric: Volumetric fog:

Water physics and look has improved significantly

Hair physics + Necklace and earrings physics

NPC and traffic density improved

In some clips you can see TAA artifacts

Volumetric cloud system improved:

Improved volumetric lighting:

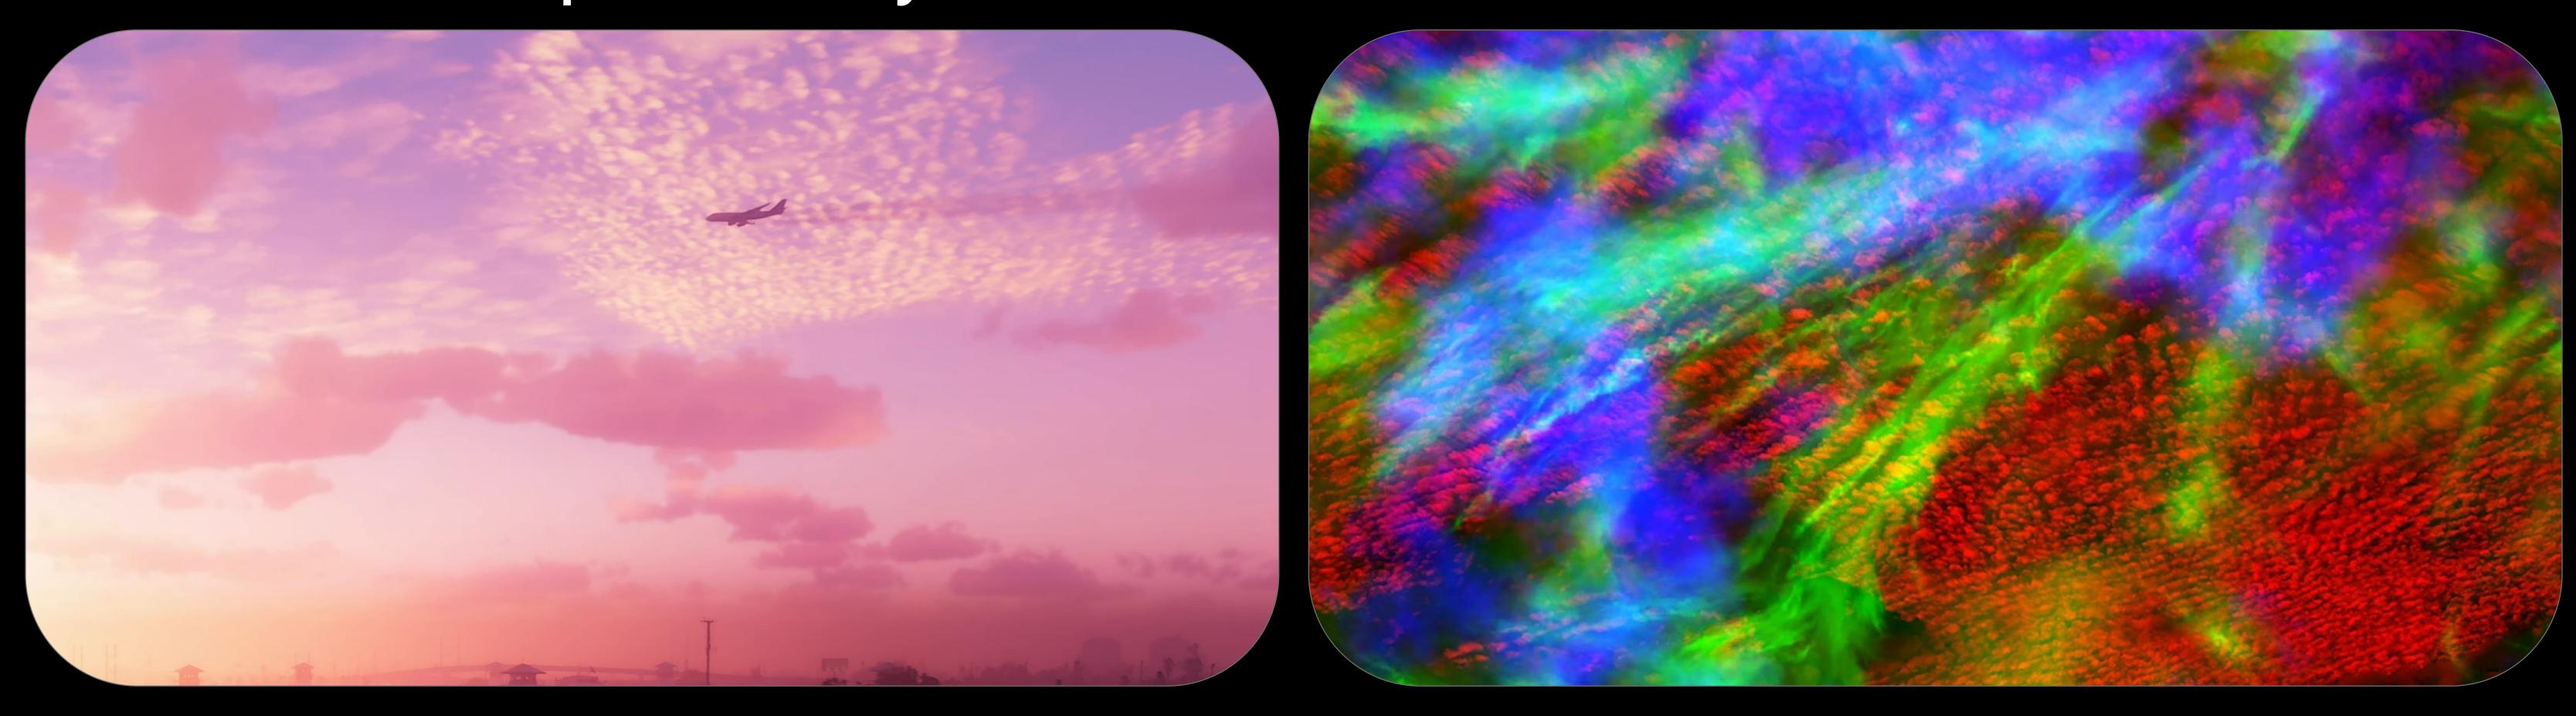

- FSR is most likely being used. A lot of shots are at 1440p, sometimes below that.
- RTGI (Ray Traced Global Illumination) seems to be in use.
- RT reflections with a mix of SSR seems to be in use.
- RT shadows are not in use, instead traditional shadow maps are used.
- Character rendering seems to take a more stylistic realism approach, instead of photorealism.
- The performance target is seemingly 1440p30.

Additional Graphical Details

Red Dead Redemption 2's sky mask texture:

Improved Vehicle Interiors:

Attention to detail

- Birds can sit on power lines (a detail also seen in the leaked footage)
- Jet streams have been improved: Airplanes now have condensation trails.
- The gradient from dry to wet sand where the waves wash up is very realistic and detailed.
- Each NPC has a different body type, skin tone, is wearing different clothes and is doing something totally different to anyone else:

A woman is being sprayed with sunscreen at the beach.

You can see at the beach an NPC passing a soda or beer bottle to another NPC.

A muscular guy on the beach checks his fitness tracker while running.

Pedestrians can be seen walking their pets.

A man on the beach is wearing AirPods.

- NPCs have their own belongings including: bags, towels, coolers, sunglasses, drinks, sun cream bottles, phone models etc.
- Everyone looks to be leaving footprints as they walk, and you can see the people running kicking up sand as well.
- NPCs hanging out at the beach also have their feet covered with sand.
- Flip flop physics.
- Jet skis can be seen at bay while a loading trailer for them can be seen attached to a lifeguard vehicle.
- Bits of seaweed are gathered across the beach.
- This ship is being unloaded (and ships, yachts on the water now actually move) A man can be seen with grills, for the first time in a GTA game.
- NPC phones have fully functional cameras and display screens, unlike those in V.
- Guardrails can now be deformed.
- Men are crawling out of a car crash during the news broadcast.
- A truck can be seen with water droplets on it.
- Looped wire clutter is attached near electric poles, similar to real life urban areas.
- Lucia grips onto the frame of the vehicle when Jason is drifting.
- Jason's vehicle drives over the curve once he drifts. Dust and leaves are picked up as he begins to speed away.
- Vehicle side mirrors now reflect what's in front of them (Another possible implementation of RT Reflections).
- There are dusty handprints on the back of Jason's vehicle.
- Lucia's car seat moves when she shifts her weight while turning.
- Sweat can be seen on NPCs working out. (a detail also seen in the leaked footage)
- Jiggle physics.
- There are muscle deformations and wrinkles on clothing when characters move.

Attention to detail

• The surface of the water is affected by wind. The leeward side of the towering structure on the right reveals how calm the ocean surface is in comparison to other parts.

• There are incandescent light bulbs. The filament warms up and has a characteristic fade-in/out appearance. LEDs, on the other hand, illuminate instantaneously. Car lights in earlier vehicles do not light up like ON/OFF switches. They fade until the energy level reaches 100%. Something that many games fail to incorporate as part of realism.

• In one of the shots, you can see an NPC filling his car with gas:

• The clouds in the sky now appear to capture the city's lights, casting an illuminating glow upon them.

Attention to detail

- Lucia's car seat has a sort of worn out texture with creases which is typically seen in old leather seats.
- The old lady's fingers twitch when she holds the hammer.
- Pupil dilation returns from RDR2.
- Dust is kicked up in the air when Lucia kicks open the door.
- There is a faulty street light in the Donut Burnout music video.
- Tire deformation when Jason is driving the car.
- The passenger, positioned towards the sidewalk, swings the open door facing the road as a car passes by. He opens it just enough to ensure that the passing vehicle won't cause any damage to the door.
- The badge of the Grotti Cheetah is actually the old Grotti logo that was featured back in GTA: San andreas. It makes sense to use that logo because GTA: San Andreas takes place In the '90s and the Cheetah Classic is an '80s car.
- In the scene showing the overturned car, the police Challenger exhibits a traffic advisor light bar at the back and in the scene where the bikers are taking control, a Dodge Charger is equipped with the Florida-style double light bar on the front.
- Same as it can be seen in the leaked footage you can see three people walking together on the sidewalk. In the past GTA games you only see NPCs walking alone, and not in groups.
- As Jason and Lucia drive in the opposite direction, two squads speed past them.

 One is driving the current highly-used Ford Explorer model, while the other is in the old Ford Crown Victoria, which still lingers around in bigger cities and training academies.

 The overturned van on the highway and the unmarked Dodge Challenger are commonly seen in the southern part of Florida.

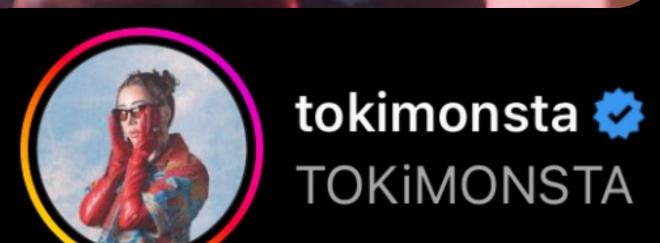

Additional details

- Lucia wears an ankle monitor in the artwork, suggesting that parts of the map may be restricted early on.
- Each beach hut/lifeguard hut has a roof that resembles a piece of fruit: pineapple chunk, lemon, lime, orange.
- Jason has a scar on his chin from shaving.
- CCTV footage
- New Social Media Similar to IG Reels, Tiktok and Youtube Shorts.
- Body Cam footage, which appears to be a parody of Axon based on the logo.
- Two-tone hairstyles are shown on a lady with a bikini.
- Jason's ear is pierced twice.
- Lucia has photos of her family in her cell.
- Tokimonsta is in the game as a DJ.
- The man covered in tattoos has one on his chin labeled "Party Time".
- The redneck's Imponte has duct-tape on the door handles.
- Injury lawyer billboard in the distance says: "WHO HURT YOU?"
- There is a stunt-jump at the end of one of the Keys.
- One residential building has a television playing inside of the interior.
- A red radar dish can be seen behind the "VICE" billboard, indicating that it is the airport.
- One of the stickers on the car Jason drives says "ARREST ANDREW BODE".
- Banner towing has returned as a form of aerial advertising.
- A graffiti piece by Ahol Sniffs Glue can be seen at the start of the clip with the lowriders on the right wall
- There is a billboard that says someone is wanted for "panty sniffing."
- The redneck on the highway doing a crotch grab has a tank top which reads "In Leonida We Bite Back"

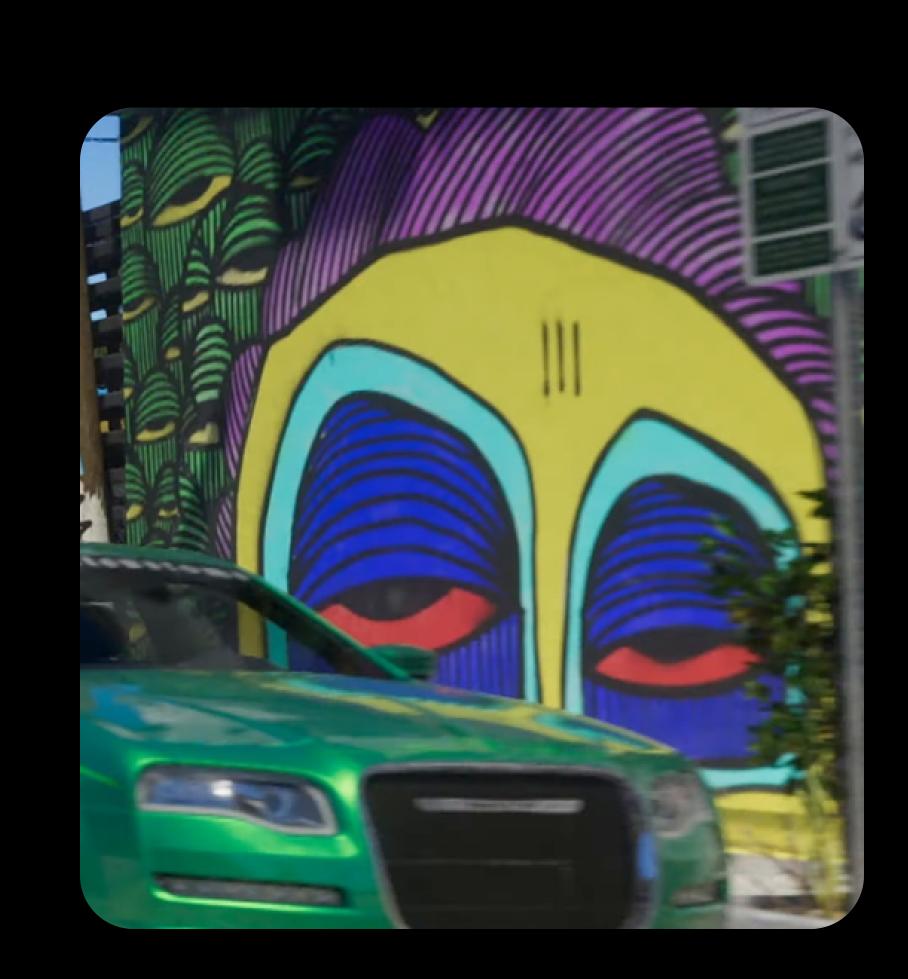

Additional details

• The dollar bills in Leonida are labeled with "The United States of Paranoia". A similar banknote was a promotional item for GTAV. Another banknote like this can be found in the GTA: VC TDE files.

So it could be a placeholder

- The strip club has a banner called "Make It Rain Mondays". Also seen in the leaked footage with the Jack of Hearts nightclub interior. May imply it's the same nightclub.
- A man is ghost riding on a pickup truck.
- The police bust scene has graffiti on the wall saying "RAVENS".
- The "Hood Heart" tattoo from GTAO's "The Contract" is on a black male ped.
- Uncle Jack's Liquor has a sign that says:

 "Download our app for even quicker liquor" and also a sign that says "PETTY FOREVER" (reference to the artist behind the trailer song)
- There is a billboard that says "Uncle Jack's Loyalty".
- Jason has bumper stickers on his car saying "Say No To Nuclear Power" and "Save The Bees"
- Jason has a Love Fist bracelet in the artwork.
- According to the official artwork's license plate, Leonida is known as the "Goodtime State."
- There are bullet holes on the car in the official artwork, similar to the ones on the Bonnie & Clyde "death car."
- The game's official artwork is inspired by "Queen & Slim" (2019).
- You can see a fishing tackle in the store Jason and Lucia are robbing.
- In the Ocean Drive shot, you can see a yellow Bravado Oceanic similar to the one in GTA Vice City.
- The black NPC with wicks has armpit hair.
- In one of the shots of the Keys, the garage door is opened.

yellow Bravado Oceanic similar to the one in GTA Vice City.

garage door is opened

Jack of hearts strip club

Additional details

- Spanish moss is at the prison Lucia was at.
- Jason's car has a bumper sticker of a guy named Cesar
- Improved lens flares
- There is water dripping from Jason's car exhaust.
- In the Venetian Islands shot you can see a toll booth. So it seems like paying tolls may be a feature returning from GTAIV.
- The profile picture of the user DadBodSquad seems to have a similar silhouette to the one seen in the logo of Race 'n Chase: Get Truckin' arcade game from GTA Online.
- There's s4spmp(San4San) license plate.
- Butt-cheek tattoo can be seen on one NPC.
- NPCs filming a music video seen from 2 point of views.
- Nails seem to be customizable.

Info on the Unknown Social Media

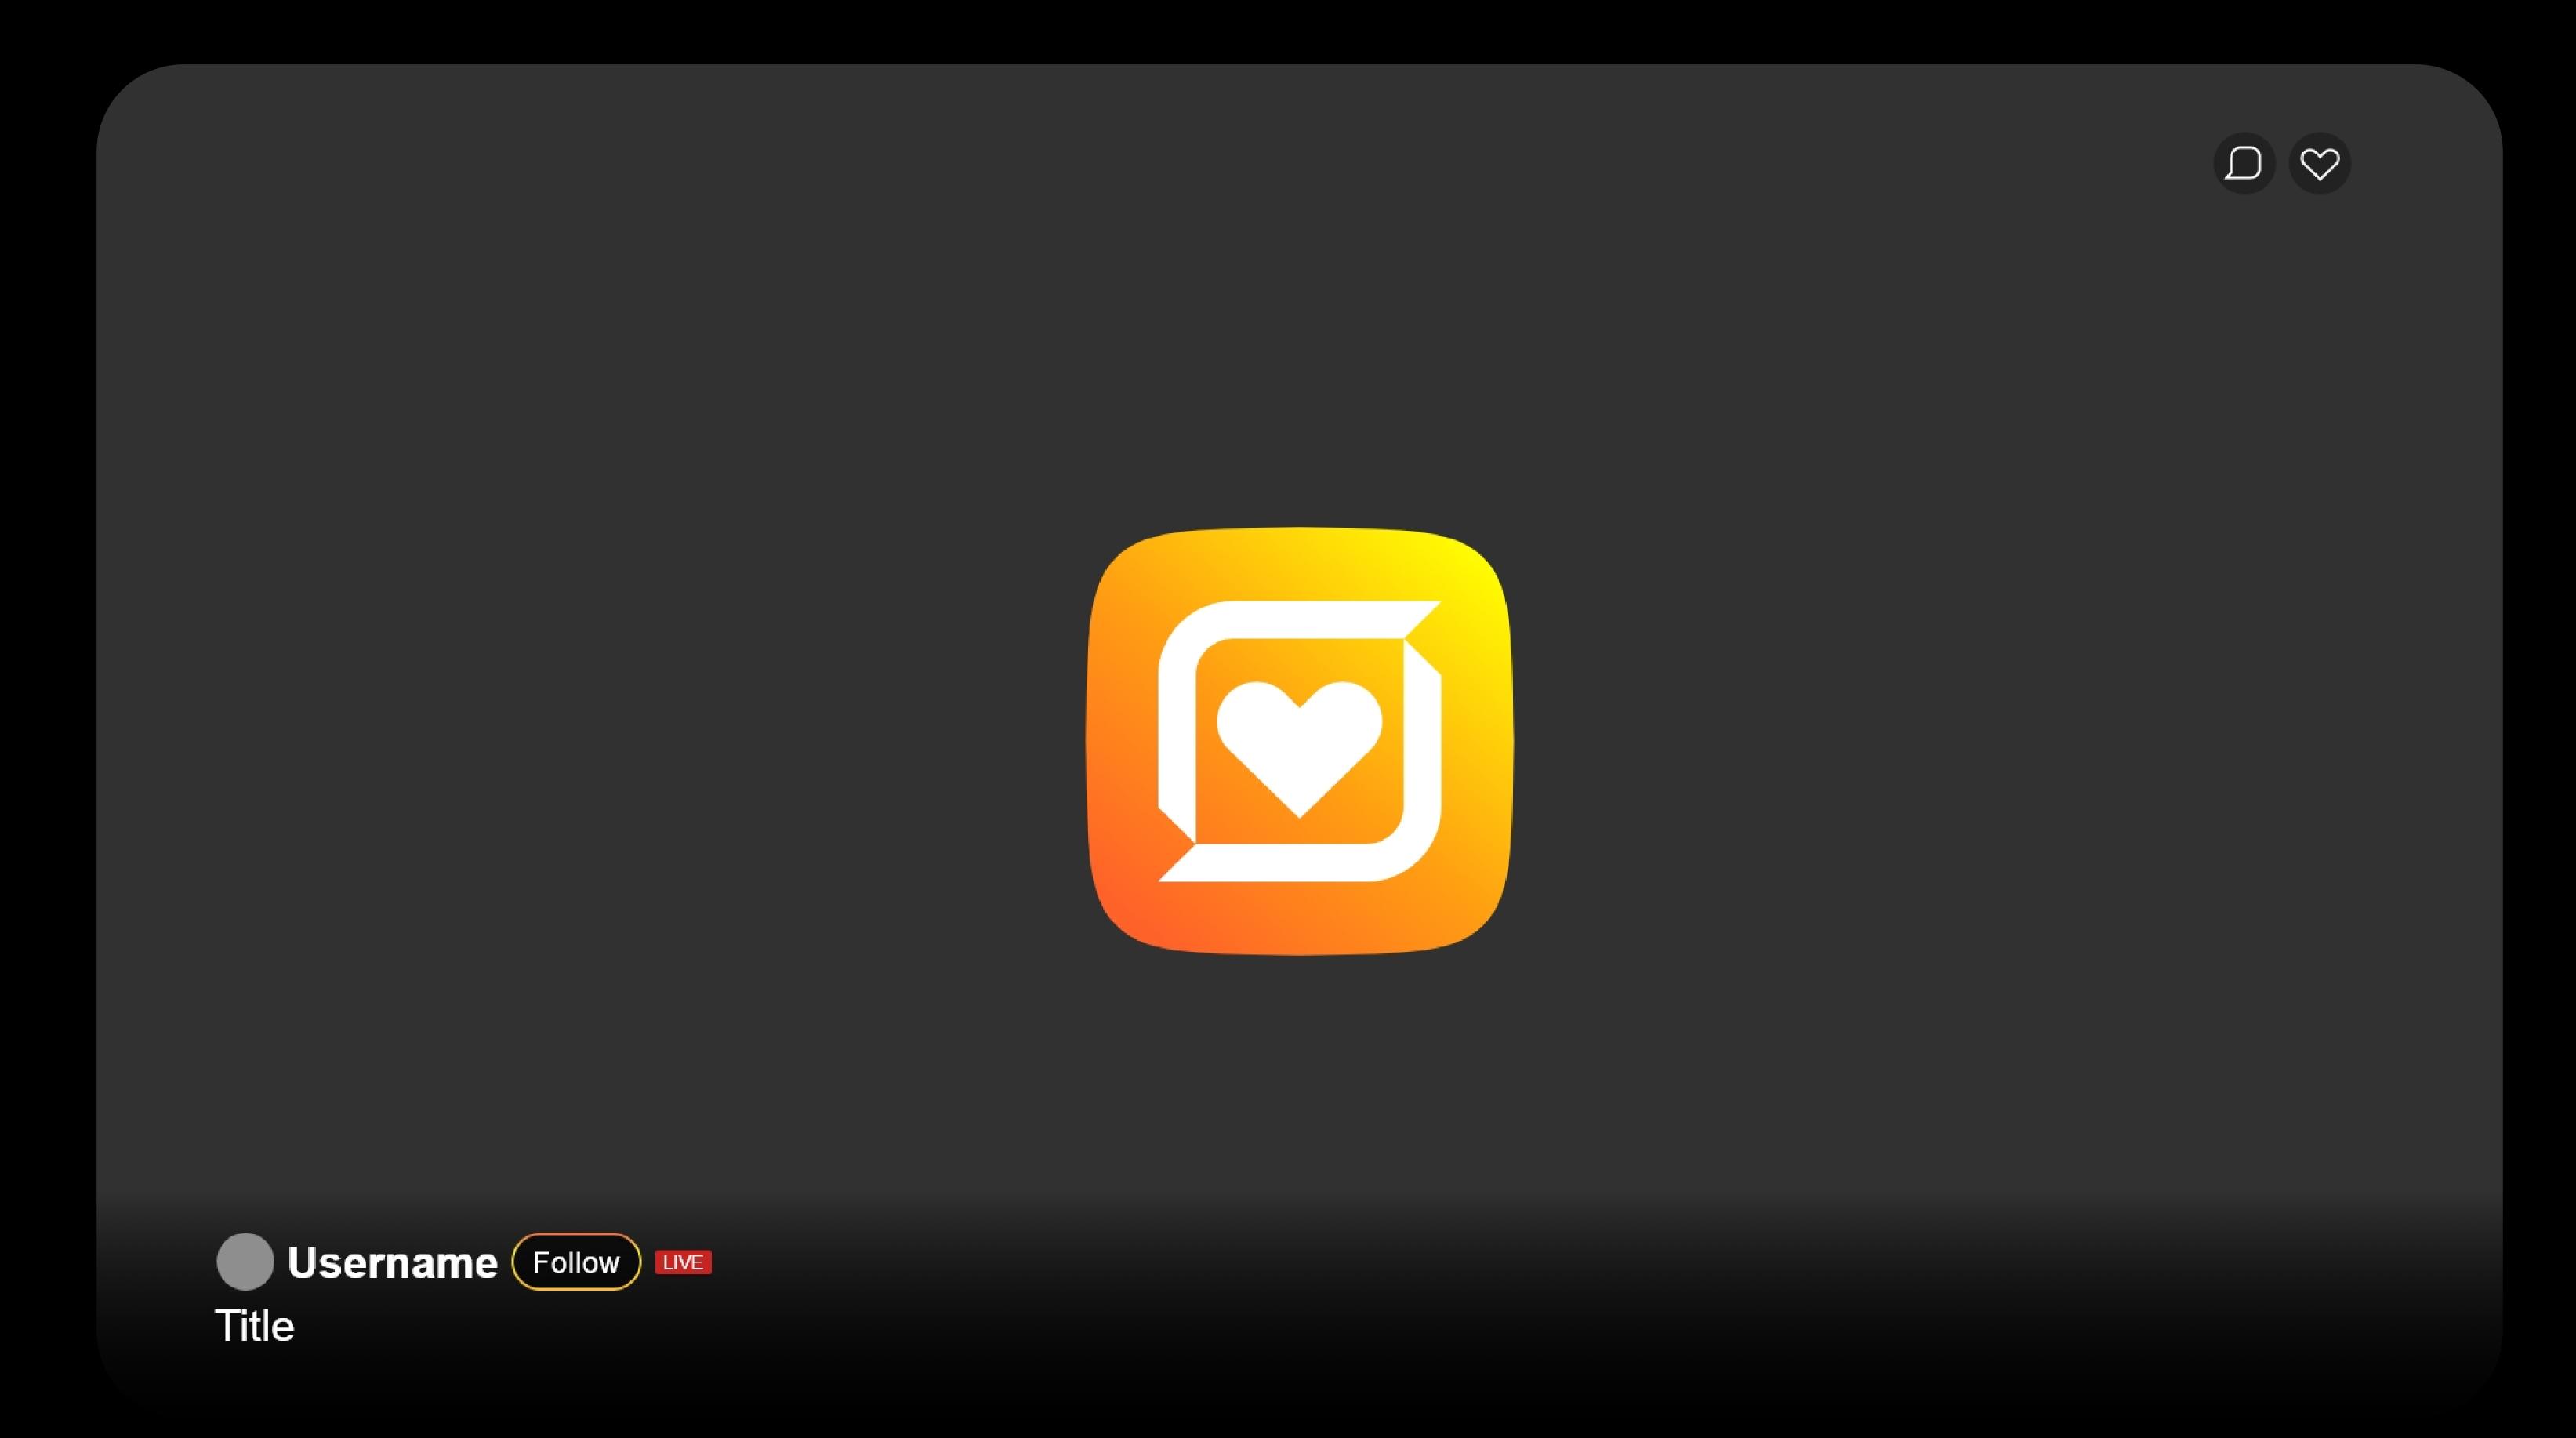

- It is a completely new app. Seems like a parody of TikTok, IG Reels and YT Shorts
- Seen in different aspect ratios, this suggest it will be accessible from various of platforms (In-Game Computer, In-Game Phone)
- Live videos are confirmed
- Follow button has yellow orange colored stroke around it (Follow)
- Seems like R* using a custom emoji pack
